Forecast For London & Southeast England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Wednesday 09 Jun 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Sunny and very warm by day with mild nights.

Today:
Another fine day, with prolonged sunshine once early mist and fog cloud clears from some southern areas. A generally very warm day with light winds expected. Sea breezes developing along the south coast may take the edge off temperatures. Maximum temperature 26 deg C (79 deg F).

Tonight:
Dry and mild overnight, clear spells before midnight, perhaps allowing the odd mist or fog patch to form with light winds. Cloud increasing after midnight. Minimum temperature 12 deg C (54 deg F).

Thursday:
Perhaps a little more cloud about during the morning but it will be another fine dry day with long periods of very warm afternoon sunshine. Maximum temperature 27 deg C (81 deg F).

Outlook for Friday to Sunday:
Staying largely fine through this period, with plenty of sunshine, while temperatures may rise a little further. Southern coastal districts may see periods of mist and low cloud.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.